

BUTLER MAKES ANOTHER HIT

The new bill of the Butler theater made another hit at the opening performance, and there were two good houses to greet the new films. Every moving picture is a gem of the picture art, and the show was a howl of laughter from the beginning to the end. There were two new illustrated songs which also took well.

PERSONAL MENTION

George Wingfield arrived in the city last night, crossing the desert by automobile.

E. L. Raymond, cashier of the Bank of Manhattan, returned yesterday from Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. James Morris and their daughter returned yesterday from a trip to the coast.

Arthur J. Aylesworth was one of the arrivals in the city yesterday, and will remain over Sunday.

Frank Golden, president of the Nye and Ormsby County Bank, arrived in the city yesterday.

Willard Packard Hatch of Goldfield passed through yesterday morning on his way to San Francisco.

T. B. Rickey, president of the State Bank and Trust Company, was here yesterday and went to Goldfield in the afternoon.

Edmund F. Van Housen, chief engineer of the Tonopah and Goldfield road, returned from Los Angeles after a short trip to the coast.

George A. Bartlett will arrive this morning from Washington, having taken advantage of the holidays to come to Tonopah and take a short.

Mrs. John Nicol leaves this morning for Butte to attend the funeral of her brother, of whose sudden death she received intelligence yesterday morning.

Fred Siebert and wife and two children, accompanied by Mrs. Oddie, mother of Senator T. L. and Clarence M., returned yesterday from the Oddie ranch at Belmont. Mr. Siebert left in the afternoon for Goldfield.

Superintendent J. H. Hedden of the Tonopah and Goldfield road, accompanied by Mrs. Hedden, and W. D. Forster, assistant general passenger agent of the road, accompanied by Mrs. Forster, arrived from the coast yesterday on the Los Angeles train.

LURED BOYS TO GAMING TABLE

JUDGE BRISSELL PASSES SENTENCE ON MAN FOR HEINOUS OFFENSE.

A young man named Bryan was before Judge Brissell yesterday on the charge of gambling with minors. This charge is made a misdemeanor by the statutes of the State, and the penalty is a heavy one. There are friends of Bryan who say that he is not so bad as he is painted, or was painted in the police court yesterday morning. On the other hand, he had an opportunity to clear himself, but failed to do so in the estimation of Judge Brissell. He was fined $200 and costs, with the admonition that if he ever came before the court again on a similar charge, he would get the limit. The limit is a fine of $500 and six months in jail.

Bryan has a room over the skating rink, and a number of boys have been in the habit of playing poker there, and it is said that Bryan has been in the habit of winning all their money. Where the boys got the money upon which to gamble is as yet a mystery, but Judge Brissell says that numerous complaints have been made to him in regard to money lost in various homes. His honor is of the opinion that the missing money and purses have been purloined by the young poker players in the club-room over the rink. There is a youngster for whom the police are looking, who is charged with having enticed the boys to the skating rink poker parlors, and the boys who were found in the game are being held until the judge determines what course he will pursue in their cases.

Judge Brissell considers the case a very serious one, and says that the boys are not only being taught to gamble, but also to steal the money with which to play cards. He says there are other games that have been brought to his knowledge, and if the guilty operators of the game are apprehended he intends to make it warm for them.

JUDGE BRISSELL'S COURT.

Joseph Rule and Frank Pace were before Judge Brissell charged with having imbibed too much on Christmas. His honor let them both off. Jack Hurley, who is an old timer, was given fifteen days for the same offense, but was afterwards given six hours in which to leave town.

"HUMAN HEARTS" MAGNIFICENT PLAY

HIGH CLASS COMPANY PRESENTS MELODRAMA TO CROWDED HOUSE.

A crowded house greeted the first performance of "Human Hearts" at the Eagles Pavilion last night, and the house will doubtless be packed at the matinee this afternoon and the final performance this evening, for it was a well pleased audience that filed out after the last curtain. "Human Hearts" is a pastoral melodrama, and is filled with sobs and sorrows, storm and sunshine. It is intensely emotional, and laughter and tears follow closely together, and the interest is absorbing from start to finish. There is a variety of characters, and it is deserved praise to say that they were all well sustained.

Lincoln J. Plumer made a spectacular blacksmith, for he has the physique, and it was duck soup for some of the audience when he grabbed the villain by the neck and swung him through the air. O. M. Paul as Jim Mason, the tramp, was particularly good in his merry-go-lucky way, and made of the character a very substantial underpinning for the play. He is a very good comedian and has the saving grace of not over-acting the part. Frederick Armadale was a bit stagey as the villain, and got himself thoroughly hated by the emotional part of the audience. He was hissed at times, and so absorbing was the interest in him that when he was led off to jail at the close, Chris Bucanovich was so carried away that he shouted: "Twenty-three for you," and the audience applauded the sentiment. Charles Madison made a frolicsome darkey, always right, and always in the lime-light. Pearl King, as the adventuress, although she strained at the part at times, gave a strong impersonation of the character in the main. Baby Lillian was cute as Little Grace Logan, and the rest of the cast was acceptable.

There will be a matinee this afternoon at 2:30, at which the price of admission will be 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults. It is a show that shouldn't be missed, and no doubt there are few who will miss it. Tonight will witness the last performance.

Manager A. J. Aylesworth, who has taken a lease on the pavilion, has already introduced some innovations in the way of improvements which will certainly be appreciated by the people of Tonopah. He has run up a partition across the entrance to the theater, which shuts out the drafts, and the stoves at either end made the house very comfortable last night. Mr. Aylesworth says that he has only started in on his improvements, and that before he has finished the pavilion will be one of the best appointed, as it is one of the very largest in the State.

MINE FOREMAN IS INJURED

GEORGE SHORT HAS BONE IN LEG BROKEN AT THE MIDWAY.

George Short, night foreman of the Midway mine, was the victim of an accident at the mine last night, which resulted in the breaking of one of the small bones in his right leg above the ankle. He was assisting in taking a car from the cage at the top, but had not noticed that the cage had been hoisted above the landing. The result was that the car tumbled over on him, breaking his leg. He was removed immediately to the Miners' hospital, where, at last accounts, he was resting easily.
